award-winning beauty

Beauty brand Sisley has scooped seven prestigious InStyle Best Beauty Buys Awards for 2010. Voted for by professional therapists, make-up artists and industry experts, Sisley won seven categories including Best Night Cream for its new launch Supremya Anti-Ageing Night Care, Best Anti-Ageing Cream for its Global Anti-Age moisturiser, Best Radiant Mask for Radiant Glow Mask Express, Best Hydrating Mask for the Express Flower Gel Mask, Best Lip Balm for the Nutritive Lip Balm, Best Firming Anti-Cellulite for Celluli-Pro and Best Hand Cream for Anti-Age Hand Care SPF 10. My personal favourite is the Global Anti-Age moisturiser which, at £223, is not cheap but this stuff works. As make-up artist Jane Bradley says: "There's nothing better for hydrated, radiant skin." Sisley is available at John Lewis.

bag lady

If you love vintage fabrics and like to stand out in a crowd, you must check out local designer Sam Cross's latest spring summer collection of bags. Sam used to design handbags for the rich and famous, which were sold through high-end retailers in Cambridge, London, New York and Hong Kong and appeared in many of the well-known glossies, including Marie Claire, Vogue and Elle. She took a career break to have a family with husband Marcus, but last year – inspired by the countless rolls of vintage fabric gathering dust in her loft – she began designing again, and launched her company Cloth Magpie. You can see her new collection of eye-catching bags, from vintage vanity cases to bobble kiss bags with oversized silver clasps, on her website www.samcross.co.uk. They are also stocked at Cuckoo, Burwash, Barton.

Hot-foot it to your nearest Cancer Research store and snap up this rather lovely canvas shopper sporting an eye-catching print created by Red or Dead. The print is called Swing on a Chandelier and depicts showgirls in the swing of things... You can also buy the shopper, which costs £3.99, online at www.shoptobeatcancer.org.uk. All profits go directly to Cancer Research UK.
